Dear Friends:

This email is a little long, but contains much important information. I encourage you to review all of it.

1. Click here to view the updated Citizen Impact blog which includes helpful voter information. I hope you will share this blog page with your friends, family, and fellow church members.
2. Click on the Voter Guides below for a printable version which you can distribute in your churches. These non-partisan Voter Guides are produced by our friends at Faith & Freedom Coalition and highlight the fundamental differences between the candidates on issues important to Christians. For voters in other states, they have Guides available here.
3. Click here for a brief analysis of the misinformation being spread about the LIFE Act, Georgia's Heartbeat Bill.

In Georgia, citizens have until October 7 to register to vote to be eligible for the November 5 General Election (other states vary). Early in-person voting in Georgia begins October 15. If you are unable to vote in person, please do not hesitate to request an absentee ballot. You can find information on your voting options by clicking here.

Even if you did not vote in the primary, or any election in recent years, you can still vote on November 5. You may need to update your voter registration, especially if you moved or got married. If you live in Georgia, click here to register, or update your registration, or just verify your information.

I encourage pastors to hold voter registration in your church this Sunday, which is the last Sunday before the deadline. You do not need to have paper forms to do this, just use this link to register your folks (or just check their registration): My Voter Page.

Many in the Citizen Impact network of ministries area collecting supplies and donations and providing assistance directly to those impacted by Hurricane Helene. Local churches providing aid is phenomenal! We encourage these churches, and those who are donating to these efforts.

If you are unsure who to donate to, there are two national organizations that we are familiar with: Hearts with Hands and Operation Renewed Hope. Their websites, linked below, provide detailed information on how to make financial contributions and donations of food goods and other needed items.

Let's join together in praying for both those affected and those who are rushing to their aid.
