Pastors and Praying Friends,

We hope that your summer has been going well. Here, in Thailand, the summer doesn't seem much like summer. The kids are still in school, the weather has cooled off (just a little), and the rains have come. We are still happily serving the Lord and humbled to see the opportunities that He provides. Our schedule has also been busy preparing the documents and reports that will be needed to renew our visas and secure another year of serving God in this country.

Uttaradit Baptist Church is remaining faithful to meet and worship the Lord. We have had five first-time visitors in the last two months. Those that have recently made professions of faith have become faithful attenders, and even better singers. I am constantly amazed at how boisterous our small congregation can worship through song. We love the old-fashioned hymns and their messages that prepare our hearts to hear the preaching. Please pray for Moht and John, two of our recent visitors that they can be faithful.

Our friends in Pitsanulok (an hour south of us) had to return to Canada for some paperwork and to help their son relocate. We were glad to help, and David filled the pulpit for the month of July. We did have regular services in Uttaradit as well. It was a busy month, but we are glad to serve whenever and wherever God leads.

Finally, we ask you to pray for two families that we have started working with. Although both are wanting primarily to study English, they both have sought out a Christian church to help. One of the families revealed that we were not the first "church" that they asked for help, but the others refused to help unless they became Christians. While it is my heart's desire to see them get saved, we should never refuse to help anyone that asks for it. We will serve. Will you help us in prayer to see God soften their hearts and defeat the lies that the Devil uses to bind the Thai people?

We can never thank you enough for your faithful prayers and support,

David, Jessica, Joanna, Lilian, John, and Judson Vickers
