Ordination for Josh Wang

Second Birth Baptist Church

Josh Wang this month joined the ranks of the other ordained men, Peyton and Sam. We first met Josh while he was in high school in 2015. Since then, God has done a work in Josh's life. We've watched him grow into a young man, grow spiritual, marry his sweetheart, Wendy, and now leading Second Birth Baptist.

Prayer for Upcoming Easter Services

To prepare the men for our furlough departure this Summer, we've focused our planning on establishing "Outreach Teams" for all the church plants. This means establishing leaders, deacons, and other necessary structure for efficient future outreach.

The first part has been completed, this month each church plant held separate, multiple meetings with their members and established who the leaders are and what the first outreach activity should be. In this group are potential candidates for Deacons which I am particularly excited about. This Easter, each church plant will oversee a picnic in the park, which essentially is an outdoor service. We expect these picnics to be well-attended by those who have never been to church. At Cross Baptist Church where Rubio leads a group of about 10 on a given Sunday, has already seen 30 sign up and expects about 40 in total. Rubio is nervous to lead his first large event, but also excited for the opportunity to preach to a crowd of people who will hear the gospel for the first time!

Furlough and Special Needs

As a reminder our furlough begins this summer, we will begin having meetings in August. One of our main goals is seeking help for our autistic son Ian. Without saying too much, it has been getting harder for us to manage, as Ian gets older and stronger physically.

With Josh's ordination, he also joins Peyton and Sam in their need for purchasing their church property. I'd like to help them all be financially independent as possible. Currently Rubio enjoys a debt-free building we purchased through God's provision two years ago. Would you pray with us for this need?
